WINSTER

Winster was until 1866 a chapelry of Youlgreave. The small, once noted market town is situated 6 miles south-east of Bakewell and 19 miles north-west of Derby. The old Market House stands in the centre of the main street which is lined by substantially built 17th and 18th century houses.

Winster was a well-known lead mining settlement and towards the end of the 17th century became, along with Wirksworth, the major lead mining centre of Derbyshire. The village became the home of wealthy leadmine holders and farmers who built the handsome houses along the main street and provided cottages a little distance away up the 'Bank' for their workers. Lead mining and farming co-existed in the area with many miners renting a piece of land on which to keep cattle or to grow wheat crops.

The area around Winster is scattered with humps and hollows now grassed over, which are a reminder of its past industrial heritage. The village is now a haven for commuters who work in the towns, retired people and for those who have purchased property to use as holiday cottages.

The old church or chapel was demolished except for the tower and the present church of St. John the Baptist erected on the site in 1842. The registers of baptisms 1674 to 1900, marriages 1681 to 1980 and burials 1724 to 1946 have been deposited with the County Record Office at Matlock and have been filmed up to the mid 1800's. The Record Office also has a copy of a transcript of the some earlier register recordings, baptisms 1633 to 1638 and 1658 to 1674, marriages 1658 to 1672, burials 1642 to 1643 and 1657 to 1673.

METHOD OF RECORDING

The memorials have been recorded verbatim, including epitaphs if any, and have been typed as such, except where the symbol / indicates a new line in the original inscription. After each inscription is the name of the stonemason, if given, also the form the memorial takes, (eg. gritstone headstone).

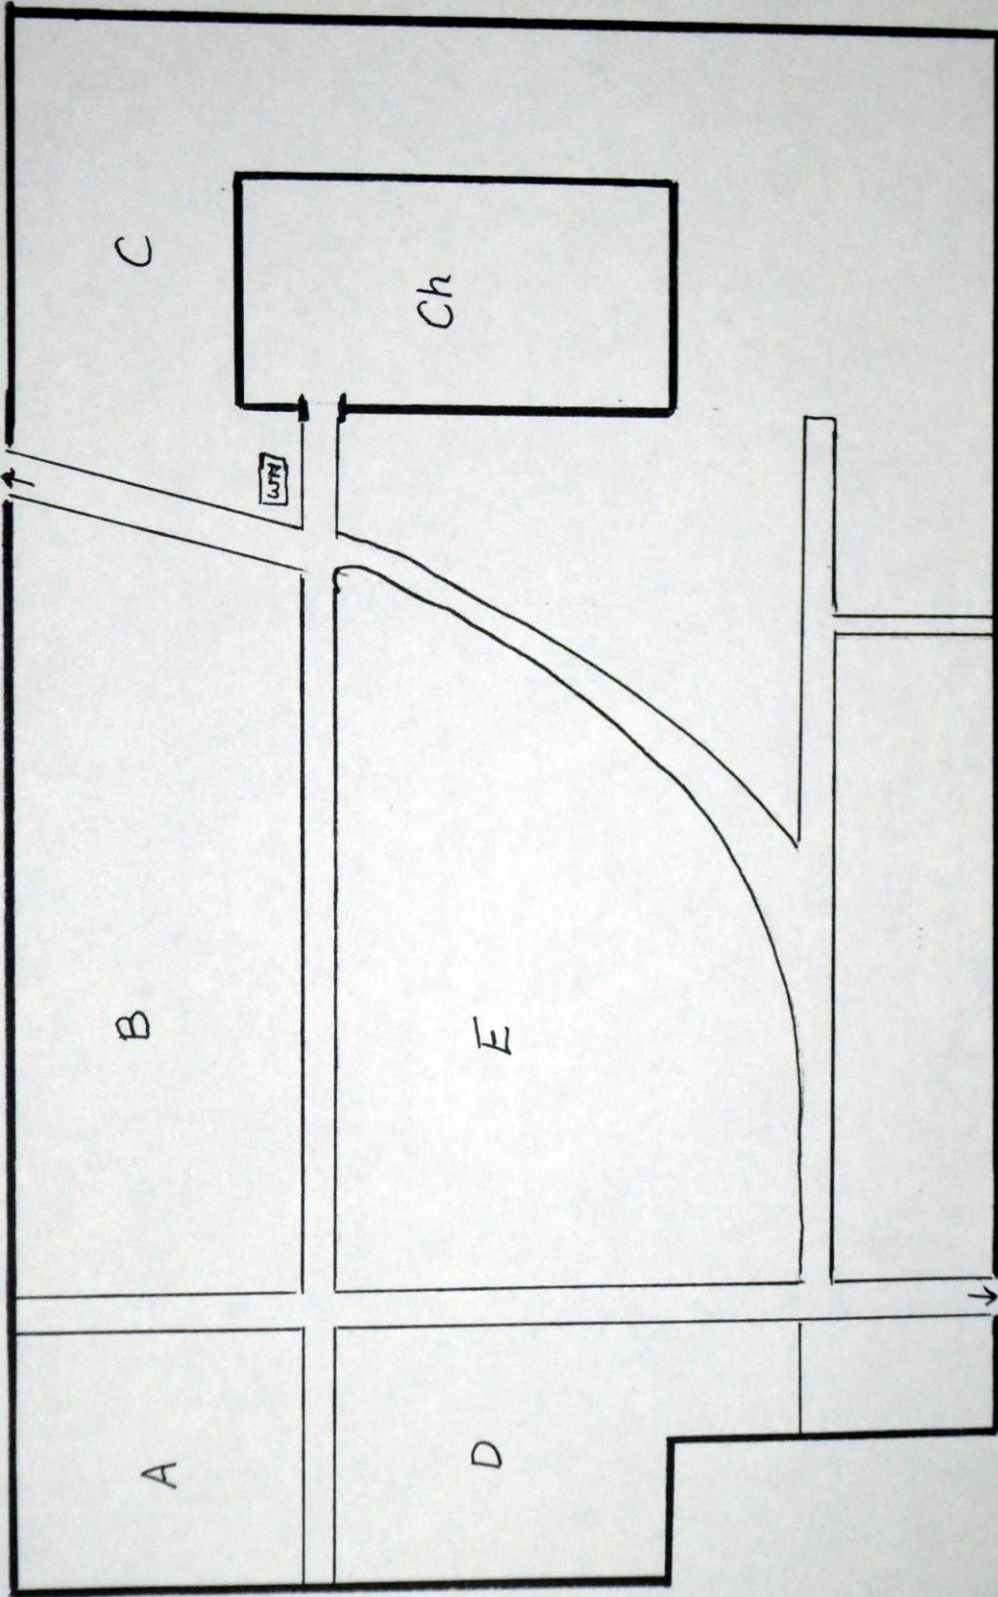

INDEXES

The index of names refers to the reference number designated to each memorial, and all names on the memorials are indexed. Those inside the church are prefixed Ch.

There is a separate index for places, including, houses, farms, villages, towns and countries etc. There is also a separate index for Stonemasons.

Recorded by Helen Bastin, with whom the copyright rests.
